

Protective gloves are worn as a visually impaired participant examines the results of a Ford crash test at the Ford Development Centre

A haptic experience allowed Ford's blind and visually impaired guests to examine Ford's products using touch and feel

Blind and Visually impaired participants in the special event were given the rare opportunity to drive with guidance from experts at the Ford Development Centre